

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITY FOR SMALL BUSINESS OWNERS IN THE ANNAPOLIS VALLEY

Share how caregiving has impacted your business

If you answer yes to these questions...

Do you own a business in the Annapolis Valley?

99

Do you employ less than 99 people?

Are you interested in sharing how caregiving impacts your staff and business?

We want to hear from you!

How? Answer 5 short questions and attend an interview to share your experience of how caregiving has affected your business.

Time/Compensation? We expect it to take 1.5 hours of your time. You will receive a giftcard for your time.

Why? We will use what you share to design and test supports that small businesses, like yours, can use to help women caregivers you employ.

Contact us to learn more and take part:

Visit www.tcv.pierlabs.ca

Call Emily at +1 (844)-217-0828

Email takingcareofthevalley@pierlabs.ca

The Taking Care of the Valley Project

This project is co-led by a group of women in the Valley and Pier Labs, a non-profit research organization. The goal of this project is to explore how to better support women who need flexible care in the Valley. This project is in partnership with the Valley Regional Enterprise Network. Women and Gender Equality Canada funds this project. The Nova Scotia Community College Research Ethics Board has approved this project.

